WASHINGTON POST MAN 24 1955 FOIAb3b AND TIMES HERALD Sanitized - Approved For Release : CIA-RDP75-00001R

Researcher Killed irginia Car Cras

Woman Passenger Dies When Auto Hits Embankment, Telephone Pole

CPYRGHT

Miss Patricia F. O'Rourke, 17, of 1349 Rittenhouse st. nw., a research clerk of the top secret Central Intelligence Agency, was killed early yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding crashed into an embankment and telephone pole in Fairfax County.

Miss O'Rourke, a native of Iowa, who had held various Government jobs here for the past 10 years, was pronounced dead on arrival at Arlington Hos-pital about 6 a.m. of a fractured skull.

Fairfax County police said the automobile, driven by James N. Brown, 40, a Capital Transit Co. employe, of 700 Jefferson st. nw., skidded out of control at a curve on Route 674, four miles west of Vienna, Va.

The accident occurred as Brown and Miss O'Rourke were returning from a housewarming party in Tyson's Corner, Fair-fax Police Pvts. Marvin Herrell and Richard Williams reported.

They said the right front side of Brown's car was crushed when the vehicle went off the road to the right, plowed along a four-foot embankment and a tour-toot embankment and into the telephone pole.

Brown, who, police said, was uninjured, walked to a nearby farmhouse after the crash and called the Vienna Rescue Squad. Miss O'Rourke's parents were notified in Sioux City, Iowa, She also is survived by a brother the Rev. G. A. by a brother, the Rev. G. A. O'Rourke, of Alvard, Iowa, and a sister, Mrs. Val Hodgeson, of Chula Vista, Calif.